

Boss to help kids take up rowing

KIDS could follow in wake of Olympian Steve Redgrave

He said: "We are totally endorsing this because the more children that get into rowing, the better."

A council spokesman said: It's great kids are getting the chance to try out something like this."

Julia Bracewell, chairwoman of sportscotland, said: "We are pleased to support all sports - indoor or outdoor - in our bid to increase participation and improve the performance of our athletes."
